

ROUND TABLE LABOR CONFERENCE MET TODAY IN WASHINGTON

Fifty-Six Men and Women Noted in Industrial Activity to be Delegates

Sharing by Labor in the Maintenance and Profits One of First Proposals

RALPH COUCH,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 6.—A share in the maintenance and profits in all industry by labor was to be one of the first proposals that would be placed before the round table industrial conference which opened here today at the call of President Wilson.

The proposal now in the hands of Secretary Wilson of the labor department was submitted at the suggestion of President E. Elliott of Harvard University. Elliott was to attend the conference at the invitation of President Wilson, who named him one of the delegates to represent the public.

The opening of the conference at 2:30 in the Pan American Union building marked a new step in the effort to bring permanent industrial peace.

Fifty-six men and women who are noted for their activity in the industrial and financial world were invited to sit in the conference as representatives of organized labor, capital, bankers, farmers and women workers.

Final plans for the conference were made this morning. The cabinet meeting called by Secretary Lansing and two other meetings called for today before the opening of the conference, were expected to have a big influence in it.

At the first meeting representatives of fourteen railway unions were to decide whether four of them should accept the President's invitation to send four delegates to the conference. Train men, conductors, firemen, locomotive engineers and other ten railway unions including shopmen were to have been represented through the fifteen delegates named by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor the President planned. The four especially invited are not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The fourteen unions asked that one representative be invited from each and the President responded by inviting President Jewell of the railway employees department of American Federation of Labor to attend the conference, and represent the ten railway unions. Jewell early declined. John Jewell, also President of the union of mine workers has declined to represent the miners at the conference.

The miners and railway workers claim to represent three fourths of the million members of organized labor of America. Government officials say all are adequately represented through the fifteen delegates named to the conference by Samuel Gompers. The other meeting will be a caucus of fifteen delegates named by Gompers to sit at the labor conference that will discuss organized labor.

Organized labor will go through the conference without a set program, said Frank Morrison, another member of the labor committee. Five delegates of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will also go to the conference without a program prepared in advance. Under plans as arranged early today delegate John Barrett of the Pan American union was to welcome the delegates and introduce, Secretary Wilson, who was to explain the purpose of the conference outlined by President Wilson before his illness. Secretary Wilson then was to call for an election of chairman and other officials.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The four railway brotherhoods have decided to accept representation at the round table conference which opened this afternoon according to Roberts of the American Federation of Labor.

Roberts said the Brotherhoods were represented by President Lee of the trainmen, President Shea of the firemen, President Sheppard of the conductors and Herman Wills, of the locomotive engineers.

BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB MEETS OCT. 11

Board Decided Upon Two Innovations Meeting Monthly and a Closed Membership

THE LATTER IS EXPLAINED First Program to be an Unusually Attractive One—Candidates For President Posted

After a year's intermission, the Brainerd Musical club will again resume its meetings next Saturday, October 11. All tickets bought last year are good for this year's programs.

The board has decided upon two innovations. Fewer programs, and better ones, meeting monthly instead of fortnightly, and a closed membership. This latter, being an amendment to the by-laws, will be presented to the club for their adoption at the first meeting. "Closed membership" means that no one will be admitted to a single program who does not hold a membership ticket. If the club is to bring high-quality artists here each year, it is absolutely necessary to make this change.

There is just one exception to the rule. The club will still continue its custom of inviting all the new teachers in the city to be its guests at the first meeting.

The first program will be an unusually attractive one, and every person who expects to join the club should try to be present at the first meeting. The program will appear in this paper next Friday. Those who have not secured their tickets can do so at the door, by coming a few minutes early.

Candidates for the presidency will be posted in the lounge of Elks hall and all members are requested to examine the list of nominees.

Nesheim-Warhus

Miss Josephine Nesheim and Knute Larson were married at the parsonage of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, South Seventh street, at high noon Saturday, Rev. M. L. Hostager officiating. They were attended by Ole Nesheim, a brother of the bride, and Miss Tina Larson.

The bride was beautifully gowned in silk crepe de chine and wore a bridal veil. They will make their home on a farm in South Long Lake township.

Degree of Honor

All Degree of Honor members should be present at the meeting on Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, as the Grand Vice President, Lois Giesler, will be here. There will be initiation.

Wickham-Converse

Albert William Converse and Miss Ida Wickham were married at the Evangelical parsonage. The witnesses were Ernest Thomas and Miss Ethel Thomas.

Catholic Order Foresters

The Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters will give a card party Wednesday, Oct. 8 at 3 p. m. at Elks hall. Everybody welcome. Regular meeting at 2:30.

APOLLO CLUB FIRST DANCE

Friday Evening at Elks Hall, Club Composed of Prominent Young Married Couples

The Apollo club held its initial dance Friday evening at the Elks hall. A very enjoyable time was had by all.

The club is composed of several prominent young married couples of Brainerd, organized for winter dancing and social affairs.

The club forms a most pleasant and congenial little fraternity and its aim is to follow the principles from which its mythological name was derived.

Its success is doubly assured as a social organization owing to its remarkable personnel. Their dances will be held every other Friday evening at Elks hall.

Erickson-Newgord

Miss Mamie Viola Erickson, daughter of Mrs. O. P. Erickson of Crosby, was married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock to Theodore Newgord of Brainerd, Rev. E. G. Carlson performing the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends.

The bride was gowned in white georgette crepe beaded and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mabel Rosenberg, wore pink organdy. The best man was Gust Newgord, a brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a bountiful supper was served. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Newgord of Sioux Rapids, Iowa; Ome Siefkin of Rembrandt, Iowa; Ome Siefkin of Rembrandt.

Entertain at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Prosser entertained at dinner Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schave and sons Henry, Walter and Herman and daughter Frieda, of Sauk Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf and their children of Sauk Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaeser of Foley; Mr. and Mrs. William Wolf of Foley; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf of Foley and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Staub and son Walter. They were shown all over Brainerd and they said Brainerd was certainly a fine place in which to live. They all reported a fine time and when leaving for home said they would soon come again.

When a Child has Croup

Thousands of mothers say Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is the best remedy they know for croup, coughs and colds. It cuts the thick, choking mucus, clears away the phlegm, opens air passages and eases hoarseness. The gasping, trampling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. H. P. Dunn.

What Broke the Show.

"Yes," sighed the opera manager, "we had a pretty rough season every way. But what took it out of me was the row between De Recker, the leading tenor, and De Squatch, the prima donna. You know what an awkward stage presence De Recker has? Well, he stepped on De Squatch's train 13 times during one performance, and the next night she came on as Marguerite in bloomers. That came near breaking us."

SUFFS FEEL SURE OF RATIFICATION

BELIEVE THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT WILL BE LAW WITHIN FOUR MONTHS.

WORK FOR SPEEDY ACTION

Seventeen State Legislatures Have Given Approval and Enough Others Are Pledged, Assert Women Who Are Conducting the Campaign.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Ratification of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States giving women the right to vote is assured within the next four months, according to the National Woman Suffrage association. The campaign that is being conducted in favor of ratification is being strengthened at all points. The women in those states in which equal suffrage is denied are anxious to participate in the political primaries next year. Some of these primaries are held as early as April and they run along until mid-summer. It is the view of the women who are calling for speedy action on the constitutional amendment by state legislatures that if the women are to vote at the general election in November, 1920, they should have a voice in the selection of candidates.

Good headway has been made with the campaign for ratification of the amendment. Seventeen states through their legislatures have thus far approved the amendment. These are: Wisconsin, Michigan, Kansas, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Texas, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Montana, Nebraska, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Colorado. Nineteen more affirmative votes are required to ratify. The suffragists are very sure they know where these votes are to come from.

Feel Sure of Enough Votes.

Four votes are counted on from the states of Kentucky, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Maryland, whose legislatures will meet in regular session next January. The Utah legislature has been called to meet in special session October 15 and according to the women it will promptly ratify the amendment. Here then, if the women are correct in their estimates, are 22 votes that are assured. This leaves 14 votes to be obtained, and to be obtained from legislatures that are not scheduled to meet until January, 1921. But the women have taken all this into consideration and have obtained pledges from governors of 14 states that they will call their respective legislatures together either before now and January, 1920, or during the month of January, 1920, to act on the amendment. The governors of the following states have made this pledge to the women: California, Oregon, Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, North Dakota, New Mexico, South Dakota, Maine, Washington, West Virginia, Wyoming, Delaware and Nevada.

During the last three months the women, through their national and state organizations have polled every member of the legislature of each of these 14 states and this poll shows an overwhelming majority in every one of these legislatures in favor of the amendment. So if the women have not made any miscalculation they are warranted in feeling confident that the amendment will be ratified.

In order to have a safe margin to go on, the women are conducting a campaign in favor of ratification in Oklahoma, in Vermont and in Connecticut. The governor of Oklahoma has indicated that he will call a special session of the legislature of his state, if it shall be necessary to complete ratification in time for the spring primaries, and the governor of Vermont, as well as the governor of Connecticut, it is asserted, has displayed a friendly interest in the campaign for ratification. The women say they have no doubt both the Vermont and Connecticut legislatures would be glad to meet in special session to act on the amendment if the National Woman Suffrage association should request it.

Not Counting on the South.

It will be noticed that the friends of the suffrage amendment are not at this time campaigning for ratification votes in the Southern states. If New Mexico be excepted. They believe, so they say, that most of the legislatures in the South will eventually ratify the amendment, but in some of those states it is an issue and the women who are conducting the ratification campaign decided it would be wise to look for the necessary votes elsewhere. The 17 states which already have ratified the amendment contain more than one-half of the population of the country. This is accounted for by the fact that such populous states as New York and Pennsylvania are to be found in the ratification column. States in the middle West took the initiative in ratifying. Wisconsin led off on the tenth of last June and was joined by Michigan one day later. Kansas, Ohio and New York ratified on June 16 and Illinois on June 17. Partisan politics, the women point out, has played no part in the work of ratification.

Women from the 29 states that already have equal suffrage are active in the campaign to obtain speedy ratification of the amendment. The work that is being done and is to be done in every state that is being called on to ratify has been carefully planned.

Haphazard

By JESSIE E. SHERWIN

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

"All vacations cut to a week."

Thus the head stenographer of Merle & Co., a city mercantile house of extensive business prestige and narrow views as to the rights of their employees.

"Shameful," came an indignant chorus.

"And no pay for the week spent away."

A rising storm of protest was speedily repressed as the manager of the establishment came into the room. There was one exception to the general group—Arline Drury. The others sat with an angry luster of eye. Her hands strayed from her typewriter, nerveless, an expression of infinite disappointment crossed her features.

Arline had lost her mother a year previous and had been cast utterly on her own resources. She was not an expert typist and had not acquired even the fundamentals of stenography. Her position, a poor-paying one, had been thrust upon her almost grudgingly, and became a work of such drudgery that she was too tired evenings to attempt to perfect herself in taking dictation.

To the usual vacation with a fortnight's extra pay Arline had looked forward with glad anticipation. She had napped out a stay at some cheap, but respectable summer resort. It seemed to her that alone by herself, mind and body at ease, she could think over present and future in a clear, coherent way.

The double announcement had upset all her plans. The circumscribed term of leisure seemed scarcely worth caring for. The withdrawal of salary during the period meant deprivation. She had saved less than $20. When she got home that night Arline counted over her little fund and viewed the prospect dolorously. She had selected a resort, the five hours' ride to which would be quite a novel enjoyment. She retraversed the advertisements of places nearer the city. Ferndale—the fare thither was low—if she went on a vacation at all that must be the limit of fare expenditure.

It was just before noon on Monday that Arline arrived at Ferndale. She found only a lonely station with a general store opposite. She was informed that the real town was two miles distant on the lake, comprising a fashionable hotel and the homes of rich people. There were no modest houses where one could expect moderate board and lodging, and the hotel was a $4 a day house.

Arline sat down on a bench outside the little depot, gloomed and almost homesick, contemplating the necessity of returning to the city. She noticed only casually that an automobile had driven up containing a chauffeur and a matronly looking woman. The latter alighted as she caught sight of Arline and came straight up to her.

"You are Miss Eva White?" she said half interrogatively. "We have been here daily since Monday expecting you, but feared you had found some other appointment. Mrs. Elston needs the care of a nurse greatly and she will indeed welcome you. John, will you take the lady's suitcase?" and almost before she was aware of it Arline found herself in the auto with the good-natured housekeeper of one of the show places on the lake, telling her enough to know that a well-paid position was open to this Miss Eva White, who had not appeared.

"And why not?" whispered Arline to herself. "If she does not come, what wrong is done by my having a free vacation and one useful and helpful as well," and both hopeful and tempted, Arline lent herself to a deception that was favored by the non-appearance of the real nurse that day—and never.

For the first time in many years Arline drifted contentedly into a new experience that was delightful. The invalid Mrs. Elston treated her as if she were some real friend instead of a dependent. The second day her son Harold, a tall, handsome young fellow about two years the senior of Arline, appeared on a hasty hunt from the city. He stared strangely when Arline was introduced under her fictitious name. He followed her inquisitively with his glance, but when he noted that his mother regarded fondly, almost lovingly, he suppressed some powerful impulse that sought expression.

Two weeks went by, a month. All thoughts of returning to the city were abandoned by Arline. Harold came to visit his mother twice a week, and he could not help but feel attracted toward the bright, intelligent companion of his mother, to whom she was as attentive and thoughtful as an own daughter. Arline divined the dawning of a mutual love, each failed to conceal from the other, and one day, in the lovely garden of white shadows, when he confessed his affection, she bowed her head in humiliation.

"I am not Miss White," she began; but he interrupted her gayly.

"Oh, I knew that the first day I met you!" he declared. "For I had received word from the nurse that she could not come. When I found you here, and my dear mother getting better each day under your care, I only longed to have you remain. And now—"

That "now" was the vital hour of their young lives, where soul spoke to soul and Arline told all the story of her life to her affianced husband.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Reports reach Brainerd of fires occasionally set by careless frequenters of the woods and hunters are sometimes blamed.

A recent case was where a fire spread over some territory and burned stumps, brush, etc., the recent rains providentially checking further spread.

Setting of fires, whether through carelessness or otherwise, is an offense in Minnesota and the injunction to see that all camp fires are extinguished before auto tourists, hunters, fishermen, etc., leave camp cannot be too closely followed.

It takes but a few minutes to stamp out the coals of a camp fire.

LEAGUE BATTLE IS OPENED IN SENATE

LODGE'S COMMITTEE REPORTS
 PROPOSED RESERVATIONS IN PEACE TREATY.

WILSON APPEALS TO PEOPLE

Result of the Contest Is Not Certain but Probably Certain Interpretations
 Will Be Adopted—President Might Shelve the Pact.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—The senate is engaged in a real battle, the League of Nations being the prime object of conflict.

The scene of the fighting has passed from committee room to the floor of the senate. Below in brief are the reservations to the treaty which have been proposed by the majority of the senate committee on foreign relations, Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman, for adoption by the senate. The fight is on adoption or rejection. It is not a clean-cut battle, so far as the alignments are concerned, for while there are two bodies more or less compact, one for rejection and the other for adoption, there are several bushwhacking parties which want changes made one way or the other in the proposals as they have come from the committee majority. The reservations proposed are:

1. The United States to reserve an unconditional right to withdraw from the league.
2. The United States is not to consider itself bound by article X, and intends to accept no mandates unless they come by force of a joint resolution of congress.
3. All internal affairs of the United States are to be taken out of the field of consideration by the league.
4. The Monroe doctrine is declared to be entirely outside of the jurisdiction of the league.

The result of the contest still is problematic, but the chances seem to be that reservations will be adopted but not in so stringent form as they have been outlined by the majority of the committee.

No Amendments Likely.

The senate is fighting this fight, with the great subject of the league as the cause belli, while the president is traveling through the country striving to bring the people en masse to support the league as it stands, which means with no amendments, reservations, eliminations or interpretations. Prior to the departure of the president from Washington, it was intimated by one of his spokesmen that he would accept interpretations which would not necessitate the recommitment of the covenant of the league and the pact of peace to representatives of the other powers. It does not seem likely just now that any amendment of the covenant will be insisted upon by the senate. Both the opponents and the defenders of the covenant as it stands say that amendments probably would be voted down.

The great question, therefore, which arises is whether or not the reservations which have been proposed will be so tempered as to be acceptable to the president of the United States. If they are not to his liking, and if he thinks their acceptance would necessitate the recommitment of the whole subject to the conferees in behalf of the other nations, it is believed here by administration supporters that he will withhold the document, put it into the state department and there let it rest.

Petitions Already Coming In.

It is said here by men who have studied the situation that a great deal depends upon what follows as a result of the president's speechmaking trip in behalf of the league. It is fully expected that petitions for and against the sanction of the covenant by the senate will begin to pour into Washington as soon as the president has finished his travels. In fact, the influx of petitions already has begun. If the great preponderance of letters and telegrams seem to be in favor of the adoption of the covenant as it stands, it may be that a powerful effect will be noticeable in the senate. The reverse in the nature of the petitions would also have its effect.

Today the senate of the United States is much more responsive to the immediate voice of the people than it was in the old days, for now the senators are elected by direct vote whereas in the olden times they were chosen by the legislatures of the various states, and, as is well known, the legislators in their senatorial choices did not always represent the views of the majority of voters in the voting states.

It is said here in Washington by some persons who are hopeful that reservations may be adopted, that it is possible if the president finds that the preponderance of public opinion is in favor of reservations, even rather drastic ones, he will accept the dictum and will allow the treaty to go into effect in the form in which it is sanctioned by the senate.

Cold Charity.

The following conversation between two beggars was overheard after one had visited the house of an old maid, noted for her want of charity.

Tired Tim—Did yer tell her yer was an orphan widout farder and mudder?

Weary Willie—Yes.

"What did she give yer?"

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

What Men Do Not Confess.

Some things men really confess, and other things they do not. No one will confess that he is a fool or without understanding; but quite the contrary, you will hear all men saying, I wish I had the fortune equal to my understanding. A man will not readily confess that he is intemperate; and that he is unjust he will not confess at all. He will by no means confess that he is envious or a busybody. Most men will admit that they are compassionate. What, then, is the reason? The chief thing is inconstancy and confusion in the things that relate good and evil. They do not at all confess the things that are offenses against society.—Epictetus.

Wait in Patience.

Don't get discouraged. There is hope for everyone and success ahead for those who are willing to patiently await triumph. It is safer and surer for you if you'll follow the precedent of older and wiser persons than yourself. They probably know through keen and humiliating experience.—Exchange.

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. ## H. F. MICHAEL WIN HONOR IN CHURCH

NOMINATED BY O. C. SKAUGE

Mr. Michael Delivered Address on "The Church School and Religious Education."

The highest honor that the Methodist Episcopal church can give to one of its laymen was bestowed upon H. F. Michael by the conference which was held in Minneapolis last week.

Four delegates from among the laymen were selected to represent the two hundred churches including the Minneapolis churches and all churches north of that city in the state. These delegates will attend the general conference to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, during the entire month of May next year and will be attended by delegates from all over the world.

This conference is the law making body of the church where the bishops are elected, the general officers selected and the program of the church made for the four years following.

H. F. MICHAEL

There is always a spirited contest by the friends of the delegates for this honor. O. C. Skaug made the nominating speech for Mr. Michael.

Mr. Michael later gave an address before the joint session of the laymen and ministers on "The Church School and Religious Education" that occasioned much favorable discussion.

In his nominating speech Mr. Skaug praised the work of Mr. Michael as one of the best Sunday school men in the state and his record in such work being widely known and commented on, is what elected him. His constructive work and ability to expound the views which he has carried to successful completion gained him the undivided attention of the whole assembly.

UNUSUAL FALL WEATHER

Thermometer has Failed to Show 32 This Fall, Lowest was 35 Degrees

Brainerd and Crow Wing county have been blessed with unusual fall weather. To date not a frost has been recorded. The lowest the thermometer marked was 35 one time in August and twice in September, neither of which caused flower boxes to lose their tenants of geraniums, etc.

Lawrence Johnson Wins Wheel

Lawrence Johnson, corner 8th and Oak street, Brainerd, wants to thank the many new customers of the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, who helped him win the splendid $40.00 bicycle which is now his own.

He won by a splendid margin over John Gould, who was second in the race. Lester Peterson was a close third; Russell Hagberg fourth; and Joe Fitzharris fifth.

Though the rush of the contest has rather interfered with the delivery of the new customers, the Brainerd News Agency assures us that there will be no trouble in the future.

They unite with the St. Paul Dispatch Printing Co. in extending their thanks to all the new customers. 1tp

TELEPHONE RATES MAY BE READJUSTED

An attempt to bring about a complete readjustment of telephone rates—local and long distance—in Minnesota will shortly be undertaken by the state railroad and warehouse commission, says Commissioner Putnam. The question will be brought up without formal complaints from telephone users or municipalities on an order directing the companies to show cause why they should not restore their prewar rate schedules.

The companies plan to resist such an order and preparations now are being made to contest it. New rates probably will be dated December 1. Rates fixed by the postoffice department under federal control are in force until that time unless changed sooner by state authority, and some contend that when federal rates cease to be in force the old rates automatically are restored. The companies dispute this.

The state of Minnesota at the coming hearings will have for the first time complete valuation data on properties of the Northwestern and Tri-State companies in the state. When the companies petition for increased rates was denied by the state commission a year ago, but was granted by the federal authorities, a staff of men was put to work making the valuation, and their work now is being summarized. From 15 to 25 men have been constantly at work for a year, using the books and records of the companies, and valuing not only toll properties but local exchange plants and equipment.

1 KILLED, SEVERAL HURT IN ACCIDENT

Detroit, Minn., Oct. 6—A party of people returning home from Brainerd were struck by the flyer, No. 1, at a crossing near Detroit, at 7 o'clock Sunday night. Ben Nesheim was so badly injured he is not expected to live. The oldest boy was killed. Other members of the party were badly bruised.

The Nesheims had been visiting in Brainerd where their relations include Mr. Nesheim's father, Nels of Long Lake and his wife's sister is Mrs. Louis Albert of Deerwood.

IMPORT CRUSHED ROCK FOR CEMENT ROAD

Crow Wing county farmers were either very busy in their fields or else did not care to sell to Crow Wing county rocks from their fields, for the road contractors of the first four miles of cement 18 feet highway have been compelled to buy crushed rock outside and ship it in from Duluth and St. Cloud.

POLICE FIRED ON DURING PURSUIT

Staples, Minn., Oct. 4—In attempting to arrest a stranger in the railway yards here tonight, Patrolmen Ed Kuhns and Ed O'Grady were met with a fusillade of bullets fired by the stranger as he ran through a lumber yard and escaped. The man is said to be wanted for highway robbery.

BRICK YARD IN BRAINERD SOON

At Least $250,000 Worth of Brick Used in Building in Brainerd This Season

MUCH BRICK IN COURTHOUSE

$80,000 Worth to be Used in the New Structure—Brainerd Should Supply Some of It

The sum of at least $250,000 for brick used in building operations in Brainerd will be expended out of town this year, according to an estimate made by Mons Mahlum, chairman of the committee on manufactures of that organization and the establishment of a brick plant here in the near future will be favored and fostered by the Chamber. Brick costing at least $80,000 will be used in the construction of the court house alone, while building operations now under way or contemplated both here and in this locality will afford a home market for a large quantity of brick.

There is plenty of brick clay available in this locality and such an industry could be easily financed in Brainerd. It is advanced by the committee that it would not only make possible the laying down at home building material at less cost than it can at present be obtained but would offer employment for a number of men and prove withal a safe, growing and profitable industry for those who engage in it. Mr. Mahlum will correspond with parties who have already had an eye on this city as a location for a brick yard and kiln and the Chamber will afford its best support and assistance in the project.

RURAL LINES TO CONSOLIDATE

ORDER PHYSICAL VALUATION

Question of Rates to be Taken up with State Railroad and Warehouse Commission

Fifty delegates of some forty-two rural lines of Crow Wing county met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Brainerd and decided to organize the lines into one body and also decided to have a physical valuation made of their holdings in poles, wire, instruments, etc.

County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth was named as the delegate to represent the farmers at the hearing before the State Railroad and Warehouse commission, when present rates charged rural lines will be considered.

The special committee of five, being three farmers and two sheepmen of Brainerd, made its report through its chairman, Carl Wheeler, and reported favorably on consolidation of the rural lines and requested the physical valuation made in order to present figures to the State Railroad and Warehouse commission.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

LABOR NEWS

GENERAL LABOR NOTES

Ten thousand waiters went on strike at Paris, France, for an eight-hour day and an increase in wages.

Two hundred and fifty members of the British parliament signed a proclamation opposing nationalization of industries. A new drastic scheme of rationing is said to be forthcoming soon.

Employees of the Vulcan Louisville Smelting company of North Chicago, numbering 150, went on strike because the demands for 55 cents an hour were refused. They were receiving 46 cents. The men also demand time and a half for overtime.

By a vote of 2 to 1, the delegates to the eleventh district convention of the United Mine Workers of America, representing 30,000 coal miners of Indiana, voted against asking congress to recognize 2 1/2 per cent beer as a non-intoxicating beverage.

While British union leaders were discussing the government's demand for guarantees that no strikes be called in the coal mines for three months, 150,000 miners struck in the Yorkshire district. Thirteen hundred miners have struck in Kent.

Striking candymakers at Chicago voted to go back to work. The manufacturers refused to allow them a "closed shop," but did give them a 44-hour week with pay at the rate of 53 hours, time and one-half for overtime, and double time pay for Sundays and holidays.

Elevated, subway and street car service in Boston and its suburbs was completely paralyzed when 7,500 men and women employees of the Boston Elevated Railway company went on strike. Over a million and a half persons were left without street railway transportation service.

At the Pennsylvania Railroad System federation's convention the delegates went on record as endorsing the strike of 16,000 workmen of the Willys-Overland automobile plants in Toledo. W. F. Hershey of Pittsford, Pa., president of the blacksmiths' organization, said the federation pledged itself to support the Toledo workmen in their demands for an eight-hour day and recognition of the union.

A shrewd blow has been struck at the "One Big Union" scheme by the federal council of the Australian Workers' union, one of the most powerful in Australia. In a manifesto issued to members of the A. W. U. the federal council states that, having dealt exhaustively with the "One Big Union" scheme the executive council of the A. W. U. has unanimously rejected it.

An agreement for a new wage scale providing an increase of $1 a day for mine and smelter employees of the Anaconda Copper Mining company at Butte, Mont., and at Great Falls and Anaconda, was reached at a conference between C. E. Kelley, president of the company, and representatives of the employees. The agreement, if accepted by the labor unions, will become effective as of July 1 last, and restores the wage scale in effect prior to the wage reduction of last February. It would remain in effect for one year.

The corner stone of the new building of the International Association of Machinists at Washington was laid by officers of that organization a short time ago.

The American Flint Glass Workers closed their forty-third convention at Bellaire, O., selecting Atlantic City for the 1920 convention. President William P. Clarke of Toledo was re-elected and his salary raised to $5,000. Other officers elected were: Vice president, J. M. Gilhooley; secretary-treasurer, C. J. Simpson, and assistant secretary-treasurer, Harry Cook, all of Toledo.

Instinct in Vegetables.
Here is an interesting experiment which proves the presence of instinct in vegetables: If a ball of water be placed within six inches of either side of the stem of a vegetable marrow, the marrow will in the course of the night approach it, and will be found in the morning with one of the leaves on the water. If a prop be placed within six inches of a young convolvulus or scarlet runner it will find it, although the prop may be shifted daily. If, after it has twined some distance up the prop, it be unwound and turned in the opposite direction, it will return to its original position or die in the attempt; yet, notwithstanding, if two of the plants grow near to each other and have no stake around which they can entwine, one of them will alter the direction of the spiral and they will twine around each other.

Inexpensive Fun.
Probably complaining about everything all the time does no real good, but it seems to be about the only way we can have any fun at all and still live within our means.—Ohio State Journal.
